Athletics and Faculty - Presentation by Mark R. Gumble

Mr. Mark Gumble, the new director for Academic Services for Student Athletes, reported on Athletics. He has been at UCF for five weeks. Faculty thanked for his warm welcome. Mr. Gumble stated that he understands the importance of high graduation rates for athletes. NCAA graduation rate report will be coming out soon. Mentoring program has been begun to assist athletes improve success. He hopes to improve several areas. One goal is to develop a better relationship between athletics and faculty at UCF. Communication and relationship with faculty is a priority. An early initiative is improvement of better more timeline letters about game day absences. He encouraged the faculty to discuss any concerns and to find solutions.

Dr. Cynthia Young is new NCAA faculty representative. Dr. Young reports our NCAA certification report was the best seen for a long time. None of football team is on academic probation. Mr. Orsini will bring a facilities update at the next Senate meeting. New stadium (if approved) will have faculty blocks of seats and faculty will have choice on this. It is important that faculty do their part to prevent problems in past with forged signatures on travel forms.

Quality Enhancement Plan - Information Fluency: Presentation by Dr. Martha Marinara

QEP is in response to SACS review. An update was provided by Dr. Martha Marinara. Information Fluency is the topic selected for UCF. The team has looked at existing programs and few are at level/scope we need. There have been several focus groups. Students report they can do all we think they can do. The groups have reported the students are technology dependent but not technology literate.

Academic Learning Compacts (ALC) assessment is a part of QEP assessment. QEP initiatives will not cost departments anything. Budget is big enough to cover initiatives. Web pages on QEP have been developed with more information and are available on the UCF web pages. All notes from the development team meetings notes have been posted there as well as names of team members. The faculty can call Dr. Marinara with any questions.
